The Problem

The real estate market in the Western Balkans is fragmented and broken.

- 01 Listings spread across dozens of websites and social media — no single source of truth
- 02 Buyers spend hours searching through incomplete or outdated property listings
- 03 Agencies struggle to gain digital visibility and manage listings efficiently online
- 04 No access to market insights or pricing transparency — impossible to know if a price is fair
- 05 Existing platforms lack AI search, interactive maps, and modern filtering tools

MARKET OPPORTUNITY

A Growing Region Underserved by PropTech

Urban Development

Rapid construction across all Balkan capitals and cities

Foreign Investment

Growing expat & diaspora demand for regional property

Tourism Expansion

Record tourism driving holiday and short-term rental demand

Digital Adoption

Rising demand for modern digital services across SEE

💡 WHY NOW?

- Post-COVID digital adoption surge across Southeast Europe
- EU accession tailwinds for Albania, Serbia & North Macedonia
- No dominant pan-Balkan portal exists today — the category is wide open
- Mobile penetration above 80% across the entire region
- PropTech investment in Western Europe is 10× higher — the gap is our opportunity
